AIREDALE'S TURN TO LEAD OTHER BREEDS

Crewe So Patricia. Owned by W. M. Jones, Gets Big Prize at Far Rockaway.

BULLDOG PLACED SECOND

The Airedale terrier Crewe So Paericia, owned by William M. Jones, wonthe special prize for best dog or bitch in the second annual show of the Ocean In the second annual show of the Ocean City Kennei, Club, hold at Ocean Breeze Park, Far Rockaway, yesterday. Thomas Parvin of Newark captured the trophy for best of opposite sex with his American bred buildog Magnet Mahomet. A very creditable entry turned out, the local fanciers being on hand with their pets, and many of the blue ribons were won by the entries from the Rockaways. the Rockaways.

the Rockaways.

Airedale terriers, ably judged by Harry Pound, who knows a terrier if any one does, accounted for the largest entries. T. S. Wolf of Woodmere won the blue in the novice and American bred with Briar, but in the winners' class John G. Cornell's K. O. K., the novice winner at Southampton, had too much quality for Briar and easily won the rosette. Special for best Airedale the rosette. Special for best Airedale was a spirited battle between the bitch winner Crewe So Patricia and K. O. K.. with Patricia winning out on her won-derful head properties and all over good

Boston terriers also had a good entry

Boston terriers also had a good entry and several promising youngsters were brought out for the first time. Mrs. F. Dix Taylor showed a bitch puppy named Alice Taylor, which won the blue in her class and shows a lot of promise of developing into a real good one. She is a well marked, dark, seal brindle. The winners bitch was from the Rockaways, T. G. Rose's Gypsy Girl, which won the special for best of her breed in the show and also annexed all of the specials for best local entry. She is a very short, cobby bodied specimen with true terrier type, and even her naif white marked head did not prevent her from winning, as her good qualities easily overcame this handicap.

A very promising male Boston terrier puppy was shown by Mrs. F. Parkhurst which, although a little shelly in body, looks as if he would be a real good sort.

when maturity fills him out.

Miss Lena Schilling made a clean sweep with her Pomeranian Black Prince V. In the toy dog classes, winning special for best Pom and also for best toy dog in the show. He is a good solid colore; black with lots of Pom type and had an easy time in disposing of his competitors.

The collie class was headed by Tom

Lawson's Karny Stormer, a well known winner, which had nothing of much qualto beat in order to win the specia

Thomas Parvin of Newark carried off the highest honors in English buildogs with Magnet Mahomet, which later was judged best of opposite sex to the winner of best in the show. The only real competition which Mahomet met in the buildog classes was from Harry Roscover's Crip, an imported gray brindle of massive build, which lost to Parvin's dog in bone, rib and shortness to ground. The Irish terrier classes were well filled but all the quality was in Patsy, a heretofore unshown dog owned by Edward Gardner of Cedarhurst.

Champion Cupid's Sweetheart and Todd Boy fame, amused the Boston tanciers by exhibiting a very nice black Pekingese sy exhibiting a very nice black Pekingese spanicl, which won the cup for best of the breed. Platz explained that he had not lost his old love for the American dog, but he was at present without a good Boston and in order to keep his hand in at bringing home the cup for best in the breed he brought his daugh-ter's pet Peke over to add another cup to his large collection.

IS SPLENDID COMPANION

If the average person consulted a dog fancier on buying a dog and a buil terrier was recommended it is highly probable that he would say, "Why do you advise me to buy one of those vicious dogs which fight everything?" There is no truer adage than "Give a dog a bad name," and even the white-washing that the bull terrier has had in the double sense of the word does not seem to have helped him break away from ideas connected with him which

Nearly every one will agree that an ugly built terrier is an ugly looking dog, but what dog is there that is a bad specimen of its breed that is not ugly from the truly critical point of view of the dog fancier? Undoubtedly to the majority of persons the better the bull terrier the uglier it looks. In fact the smaller and blacker the eyes the better, as it gives the dog a more wicked ex-pression, which the bull terrier ought to Goitre, warts and cankers are all only too well known to the kennel owner and are easily distinguished. Mange and eczema are often hard for the novice to tell apart. While fits are by no means uncommon their symptoms are only too scale hair starts. their symptoms are only too well known to any one who has had extended experience with dogs. Indigestion, colds, watery eyes and other minor ills also have symptoms that cannot be mistaken.
